William Dickson's Declination Per

-Another Convention.

The Norris slate, arranged Wednesday night at a conference between Mr. Norris and the delegates and alternates elected in the districts carried by his wing of the party, was completed at the District democratic convention after The Star's report closed yesterday. The delegates chose besides Mr. Norris, to go to the national convention of the party and vote for the renomination of William Jennings Bryan 'as long as his nomination is possible," and the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform of 1896, were John A. Clarke, William F. Hart, J. Fred Kelley, William T. Whalen

Chairman Clarke read a letter from him wraten early in the day and before he was aware of the strong movement in his favor, declining to be a candidate, but that any declining to be a candidate, but that any delegates pledged to Bryan and the Chicago platform would be acceptable to him. This letter was not read until after Mr. George Killeen had announced his withdrawal in favor of Mr. Dickson. The declination of Mr. Dickson changed the conditions apparent up to that time, and the vote as finally announced showed Clarke had received 61 votes, Hart, 59; Kelley, 58; Whalen, 58; Donovan, 54. The alternates chosen were Frank B. Lord, J. G. Campbell, Charles F. Shelton, George Davidson, D. Webster Hancock and Joseph Bradley.

Resolution Declared a Subterfuge.

The anti-Norris democrats declared that the resolutions instructing the delegates to support Bryan "as long as his nomination is possible" were intended to hoodwink the real friends of Bryan and 16 to 1, who, they asserted, would be found only in the anti-asserted, would be found only in the anti-Norris ranks. They bitterly criticised the committee on resolutions of yesterday's convention for ignoring the protest of the executive committee of the "Bryan Demo-cratic Association," signed by Mr. Robert Mattingly and others.

Delegates Declare for Bryan.

Mr. J. Fred. Kelley, secretary of the democratic central committee and one of the delegates to Kansas City, said that yesterday's convention was regularly called and constituted, and was held in accordance with rules recognized and in force here

"Any other convention would be irregu-

"Any other convention would be irregular." he remarked, "because the central committee alone has power to call one. So far as our instructions for Mr. Bryan are cerned, we would, have all voted for him loyally in any event. He will have our undivided support as long as his name is before the convention, and it needs no prophet to declare that this will be all the time." "I am going to Kansas City," said Mr. William F. Hart, "and will carry out the convention instructions, you can rest assured. Our delegation is regular, and of course will be admitted. A blind man could see that."

Delegates Whalen, Clarke and Donovan were equally earnest in their expressions for Mr. Bryan and in the belief that they would be seated, and Mr. Norris referred to his past loyality to Mr. Bryan as a sufficient reply to all imputations against him.

Indians Appeal to Government When Money is Gone. Several delegations of Indians have been in Washington during the past winter, and after staying for a time each party has put n an appearance at the Interior Department and asked the Secretary for money enough to satisfy their landlord and also to pay their railroad fare home. The leaders explained that they had spent their money, and were practically stranded, and they asked the government to come to their assistance. As they are not supposed to leave their homes for the purpose of coming to Washington, unless they first obtain the consent of the Secretary of the Interior, it will be understood that a request of the will be understood that a request of the kind indicated under the circumstances is rather out of the ordinary, to put it mildly. However, from the Indian point of view, there is nothing improper about it, but in many instances it is believed the entire scheme is concocted for the purpose of getting a trip to Washington at the expense of the government. As a rule the Indians are supplied with funds in order that they may go home, and while there is not much ground for their claim upon the generosity of Uncle Sam, still it is made with great regularity, practically each year, and the government as regularly forks over. Generally speaking, the business which brings them to the city, if they have any, is to push some claim in Congress or to attend to matters before the departments.

THE GEORGE'S CREEK STRIKE MINERS SHOW NO DISPOSITION TO

So Far There Has Been No Violence-Iron and Steel Workers

GIVE UP.

FROSTBURG, Md., April 13.-The strike among the 5,000 coal miners in the George's creek district, which began on Wednesday, continues in full force, with no indications of an intention to yield upon the part of either the miners or the owners. The men profess to be able to hold out almost in-definitely, while the owners appear indifferent and profess to care very little whether the mines are worked or not. An attempt has been made to handicap the miners by inducing merchants to refuse them credit and this has been partially successful, but the men purpose to counteract it by establishing stores to be run on the co-operative plan, under the management of the Mine plan, under the management of the Mine Workers' Union.

As far as can be learned not a single act of violence has been committed or attempted, nor has there been any coercion, except in the case of about twenty men who were inclined to return to work yesterday. These were waited upon by a committee, backed by about 300 of the strikers, and after some persuasion, the men abandoned the notion. by about 300 of the strikers, and after some persuasion the men abandoned the notion of going to work. There is nothing to indicate that there will be any outbreak, nor is it likely that such a thing will happen, unless the operators make an attempt to bring in outside labor. In this event there is no doubt that a repetition of the scenes of 1894, when the millita of the state were called out, will be re-enacted.

Absolutely no work is being done in any of the mines in the region, except such as is necessary to keep the mining property from being damaged by fire or water, and all business connected with mining is practically at a standstill.

All the mechanics and laborers in the employ of the Cumberland iron and steel shafting works went on a strike last night. About 250 men are involved. The strike, it is alleged, is the result of the lathe men being docked for the time it takes men on other turns to remedy the work which they are charged with spoiling. tically at a standstill.
